STAT

I appreciate very much your expressions of gratitude for our assistance, but regret that more could not be done to help you and your people. Like you, I would have much preferred for South Vietnam to continue to be a free nation. I am much encouraged by your positive attitude toward resettling in this country. Of course I understand how painful it must have been to leave everything behind you, but I wholeheartedly commend your intention to devote all your attention to starting a new life.

Since I personally do not know of any suitable openings in either the government or private sectors, I had one of my subordinates do some research on this subject, to help you. Even though you accumulated much experience of government administration in the years since your graduation, I believe a position in the technical field is the easiest and quickest way to exploit your qualifications.

One good beginning is to apply to W.R.E.S.T. (Washington Regional Engineers, Scientists and Technicians) at 1111 20th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.; telephone: 785-4235. This is a well-regarded non-profit association which finds jobs for engineers and other specialists.

Another possibility you should not overlook is the Virginia State Employment Commission. I believe the office nearest to your home is at 6320 Castle Place (just off the Leesburg Pike) in Falls Church. This office has computer lists of available jobs, and offers much free assistance and counselling. A check of the latest computer list showed many good-paying positions for electrical engineers.

I regret that at this time I can offer you nothing but the above research and advice, but I am very confident that you need not remain unemployed for long. If through my friends and associates I do hear of any suitable opening at a later date, I will not fail to let you know.

Faithfully,

Vernon A. Walters
Lieutenant General, USA
Deputy Director
